*DELAND-WELDON
HIGH SCHOOL
1974*

Here's pictures, memories, action galore!
Thumb through the pages to see what's in store.
There's Evelyn in hand and show-rhino-ear,
And let's not forget our own giant Pearl.
Shorry Malligan, the sub-teacher's delight,
Caused a lot of trouble, but was never in sight.
Come twelve-fifteen every day of the year
Thundering footsteps one could hear
As Chrystal and Hogan raced to the mess hall
To beat the little ones and devour it all.

The faculty, well, unless they be,
And even best, but in futility.
Can't forget Elsie's endeavors in health,
She worked so hard she exhausted herself.
Mrs. Belcher, librarian of the years
Study hall noise has her deaf on both ears.
Who but Jerry H. with all his pride
Would sprain his back for a free ambulance ride.

At noon the candy line just grew and grew
When it was we were blessed with cafeteria stew
I didn't like tromping through rain and sleet
I'd say to the restaurant to save your feet
"I'm sorry about food and cigarettes, too!"
With a run to a stall, smoke was hard to see through.

Since only quarters and nickels would do,
Our dimes and our dollars would pass through
The welcomed lobby phone - there it did hang
And at every noon hour it faithfully rang.

"Did he or didn't she? Why?" No one knows,
So to the telephone everyone goes
To hear soap opera gossip, what a fuss,
With ohs and ahs, more rumors to discuss.

Yes, we've worked really hard and we're proud, it's true,
And our labor, time and wits have been spent for you
To fellow students who made this year complete
We dedicate the EAGLE, you just can't be heard.

THANKS

"Dave, we need all the pics tomorrow, Can you have 'em ready?" "Is Miss Borys or Mrs. Blackburn staying after today?" "When's Mr. McCandless coming?"

"We need more pictures!"-- just a sample of those often asked questions that harassed our sponsors and photographers. Without Miss Borys and Mrs. Blackburn and their exhaustless patience we would never have made it. They pitched right in to help meet deadlines. We greatly appreciate their time and effort. Dave and Mr. McCandless are responsible for the photos-- shooting and developing them.

Dave, you endured our bossiness, our demands for pictures on short notice, and those countless trips to Champaign. Mr. McCandless, thanks for coming clear out here for pictures, for lending us equipment, and, of course, for teaching Dave the ins and outs of the photo trade. We have these people to thank especially for this yearbook. Thanks again!

THANKS!

The graduating class of 1974 would like to extend our gratitude to the senior class officers and sponsors. Many a meeting has been spent with Miss Borys almost losing her head, Mr. Sarlo calmly roaring at the class, and Mr. Lenz silently bowing his head for a few minutes of meditation after being confronted with one of the many problems that the senior class has such a knack for getting into. So from the bottom of our hearts we say SHUT-UP... Thank-you!

I, PAUL BELL, will my great ability to play basketball to Steve Tuttle in hope that he will get to play next year along with Kelly.

I, ELIZABETH BLANKENSHIP, will my great personality, keen wit, and super courage to anyone who wants it or needs it.

I, RONNIE BOASTICK, will my great ability to talk slowly and clearly to Miss Borys.

I, HOLLY BOWMAN, will my perfect attendance record to Shorty Mulligan in hopes that someone will finally see him.

I, MARY CASTRO, will Marsha Poff my ability to get along with the teachers.

I, RICK CONOVER, will my basketball ability to Kelly Hiter in hopes that his dad won't have to help him shake the starting five his senior year.

I, PATTI CRICHTON, will my patience to put up with this lousy school to all unfortunate students and my ability to keep my nose out of other people's business to Diane H.

I, LONNIE ENYART, will all my hot cars to Mr. Gregory.

I, ROBYN FOLLOWELL, will my ability to knock on doors and not get caught to Sherri Brock and Linda West.

I, DEE ANN GRANT, will my collection of Playgirls to Evelyn in hopes that they will fulfill her fantasies.

I, TIM HOGAN, will my quick wit to Jeff Pearl.

I, DIANE HUISINGA, will my pep to Sue Hermann.

I, JACK HUNTER, will my ability to not get caught smoking to Tim Hagerty in hopes that he will get kicked out as few times as I did.

I, LARRY KALLEMBACH, will my ability to talk to Roger Baker.

I, JEANENE LOWERY, will my bra to Beef Sanderson in hopes that he will get that extra lift that we all know he needs.

I, TERRI MANNING, will my ability to get along with teachers to all the Juniors.

I, CAROL MARLATT, will my ability to get a standard award in physical fitness to Pam.

I, CATHY McCANN, will the last stall in the bathroom to Coral and Trish.

I, DIANNA McCANN, will my ability to be as graceful as a ballerina to Merry Bowman.

I, MARK MOBERLY, will Ron Peake's cop car to Tracy Turner so that he won't have to fake it any more.

I, THELMA MOODY, will all the fun that I've had in high school to my sister, Janet, in hopes that she will enjoy it as much as I have.

I, CHRIS PALOMBO, will my sparkling personality and patience to Miss Borys.

I, DEBBIE REESER, will my calm, "respectful" manner to Mr. Lenz.

I, DEBBIE ROY, will my ability to not argue and get mad to the Junior girls I had P. E. with.

I, VICKY SIDES, will all my bus experience to Mike Duvall in hopes that he won't make the same mistake twice.

I, RICK TEDRICK, will my Ford to Jeff Burgin in hopes that he will smash it completely.

I, DAVE TEETS, will my old man's '59 Cadillac to the Mafia.

I, CHUCK TURPEN, will my size and strength to David Harris so the Freshmen won't pick on him next year.

I, TOM TUTTLE, will my tights from the Junior class play to Tony Edwards.

I, STEVE TWIST, will my winter coat, stocking cap, gloves, boots, and long-johns to any student who tries to make it through another winter at DWHS.

I, GUY WISEGARVER, will my superior intelligence to Mr. Heller in hope that in the years to come it can be used.

I, JACK WORKMAN, will my smoking stool in the restroom to Trish McCann.

I, CRYSTAL WORTHEY, will my ulcer to Kent Reeser so that he doesn't become an alcoholic.

SENIORS SOON TO BE

OFFICERS: Mr. Hettinger, Mr. Williams, Sponsors; Pam H., Treas.; Mr. Gregory, Sponsor; Gordon G., Pres.; Linda S., Sec.; Robin B., St. Council; Rusty M., Vice-Pres. (not pictured).

Although they're Seniors soon to be
They really don't seem like that to me.
Between yelling at games and quitting the team,
They don't really know what "Senior" means.
They have the potential, that's very clear,
The time of its emerging is very near.
They're talented, smart, loud but sincere,
And have quite a knack for the drinking of beer.
So from the Senior Staff to class of '75,
We'd like to inform you, your time has arrived.

Due to the ambition of the Lettermen, D-W has been blest with a new animal -- The Spartacus. Many groans and grunts have been heard coming from the weight room as the students and people of the communities have endeavored to improve their various shapes. Thanks to many people, we can all enjoy this equipment.

BATTLING FOR THE POP MACHINE

Although Student Council has had a very inactive year, they rose from their slumber long enough to battle for the blessed pop machine. Blood ran thick as soda when the pop and candy were locked up in the storage room. Appeals were sent up to higher authorities as students promised to throw away their pop cans and candy wrappers. A week of probation was set and the machine was liberated from the dreadful storage room. Students were thrilled to see the pop machine back in its place.

GAL'S ARE ALLRIGHT

Although G.A.A. does not stand for this, Mrs. Trigg certainly displayed this feeling the majority of the year and so did the rest of the club. After nine weeks of bowling, the club was ready to take on the tournament of champions, too bad that they were not ready for us!

An enjoyable year was spent by the girls who participated in the 1973-74 club, and we would like to thank Mrs. Trigg for a good year.

SENIORS ARE CHAMPS

On February 24 at 2:40, the show-down between the seniors and juniors arrived. Not only were the players ready for action, but the student body was ready to cheer, and cheer they did--until the friendly Principal threatened them with their lives. It was a very close game, and talent was displayed by both teams; but as usual the seniors came out on top and were awarded their trophy.

An exciting year was spent by the AFS Club. It started out with bugs and food. The community welcomed Mary with a picnic in the Weldon park.

A dynamic weekend was experienced with the 17 AFS students that came from different towns in central Illinois. It was an enlightening, but somewhat tiring experience. A brief tour of the U of I campus lead to many yawns and camera flashes. Several new and awkward styles were observed by people in the Western Bowl as the group tried their hand in the new sport. Everyone was treated to a potluck on Saturday night. Time was spent with the AFS guests showing slides and telling of their countries. The weekend was one that we will never forget.

The next task that the AFS undertook was a scrumpticious chili supper. AFS mothers kept their dippers going as they served over one hundred people. Several AFS'ers were plagued with dish-pan hands when the whole thing was over.

She always has a smile and usually a new word to tell you about. Who else but--Mary!

Her country is Peru and her host, the Don Reynolds family.

We will all remember Mary for her comments, questions, and answers.

She really had a talent for brightening up some of the dull days at D-W High.

At Christmas, Mary was given a party. She was quite thrilled with the gifts which she received. The affair was well attended by both communities.

The students had the privilege of teaching Mary how to swim, swear, and brown-nose.

Games and refreshments were furnished by the AFS Chapter. A coat was presented to her from the high school AFS.

Many chuckles and laughs were heard from the crowd as Mary commented on her gifts and cards.

Mary's last comment was, "Santa Claus was better to me this year than he has ever been before!"

Marching Band usually begins even before school starts! The Band not only faithfully marched for football games and Homecomings, they also participated in the Northwestern Band Day and the U. of I. Band Day. Practicing for these competitions meant several early morning practices and marching up and down the road for MILES and MILES . . . Their hard efforts paid off though. The Band received a first for percussion and a fourth out of twelve schools in their division in state competition at the U. of I. The Band is one of the most active organizations at D-W and should be highly commended!

PEP CLUB

The 1973-74 Pep Club started out with a bang! Although it fizzled out in the end, it did have its highlights. The Pep Club sponsored a wall-decorating contest for homecoming, and had bake sales to buy jerseys to wear at the ball games. Pep Club officers are as follows: Mrs. Pasley, Sponsor, Diana M. Pres., Pat C. Vice., Gayle G. Treas., Merry B. Sec., and Linda S. Student Council Rep.

ACTIVITIES

THE AGE OF AQUARIUS

The Age of Aquarius set the mood for Homecoming this year. It was a time of excitement and disappointment. The 10 to 11 score disappointed many Eagle fans, but they quickly recovered when they saw the beautifully decorated gym which was provided by Student Council. The music from the Bob Norman Band filled the halls adding to the excitement of the Grand March. Then the mystic moment arrived. It was time to announce the attendants and the King and Queen. The lights were lowered, the drums rolled and the winners were revealed. They are as follows: King, Andy Langley; Queen, Diane Huisinga; Senior Attendants, Debbie Roy and Tim Hogan; Junior Attendants, Linda Sprague and Roger Baker; Sophomore Attendants, Coral Worthey and Craig Riddle; Freshman Attendants, Gayle Gregory and Roger Twist.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION?

They could be compared to Freshmen the first day of school. Scurrying around with class schedules in their hands, they didn't look like Freshmen, some of them looked old enough to be parents--most of them were! It was the open house for parents. It began at seven with an assembly. The students of various classes had prepared presentations for the event. After the assembly the parents were subjected to everything from animal dissection to reading French menus to a complex physics experiment.

The parents, following a mini schedule, attended the classes their teenagers usually would. This enabled them to get a better perspective of a student's school day and also gave them a chance to talk with the teachers. After "school", refreshments were served in the lobby. There was a good turn-out and on the whole the open house was a great success!

WHO DUNNIT?

After six weeks of diligent practicing, the Junior's debut came. The members of the play cast who had so notoriously side-stepped rehearsals were now nervously pacing backstage. But the moment had arrived and ready or not the play had to go on! Everyone was anxious to know "Who Dunnit?" A sophisticated mystery writer is murdered and the Arch Angel grants him twenty-four hours to go back to earth and find out "Who Dunnit"! Many tears and laughs filled the gym on that Friday night. A great sigh of relief was heard coming from the sponsors and the play cast when the play was over. Many comments were heard on the play afterwards. Most of the juniors "just couldn't believe it worked!" But the play did work and it came off just great! Cast: Julie W., Linda W., Gary N., Rick S., Shirley S., Steve T., Tony E., Pam H., Kelly H., Ms. Shields, Sherrie B., Kathy P., Linda S., Merry B., Marna F., Jodie A., Robin B., Ms. Borys.

LETTERMAN'S CARNIVAL

Along with the March wind, in roared the Lettermen's Carnival. On March 2nd the Lettermen sponsored a Carnival as a money making project. It is not the "run of the mill" type project, though.

There are several booths where one can test his skill at throwing darts, knocking down bottles, and many other sports. Not only does the contestant achieve the self-satisfaction of knowing he has conquered these skills, he also has the chance to win prizes in the raffle. These included a clock radio, a broiler oven, tape deck and a camera. Not only were the winners happy, but also the lettermen. Their carnival was a great success!
